

Whatever your role, there's a job for you in the laundry industry.

PRODUCTION OPERATIVES | ENGINEERS
IT | DRIVERS | LOGISTICS | HR | ADMIN
CUSTOMER SERVICES | SALES | FINANCE

It's not just washing! From the warehouse to the board room, there's a broad range of roles available within the laundry industry - with over 24,000 people currently employed and only around a third of workforces physically handling laundry, there's a career for you!

Working in a sustainable, environmentally friendly industry, a job in laundry can be financially and professionally rewarding and offers fantastic opportunities for genuine career progression.

“From joining as a laundry operator at aged 16, I've worked my way up through to supervisory and managerial roles to Director. I now oversee thousands of people across multiple sites.”

Laundry matters. It may not be the most glamorous of industry's, but textile services sit behind practically every sector of the UK's economy. Laundries process over 53 million pieces of linen and workwear per week and is core to the successful operations of many businesses in vital and important sectors across the UK.

WITHOUT A PROFESSIONAL LAUNDRY SERVICE...

90% OF HOTELS (10-BED PLUS)
WOULD BE FORCED TO CLOSE
WITHIN THREE DAYS

90% OF HOSPITALS
WOULD BE FORCED TO CLOSE
AFTER ONE DAY

PHARMA & FOOD
PROCESSING FACTORIES
WOULD CLOSE
FOLLOWING ONE DAY

The Textile Services Association is the trade association and the voice for the textile care services industry in the UK.

We represent over 150 independent commercial laundry and textile rental businesses. Our membership ranges from small family-run operations through to large, multi-national companies providing quality linen and workwear services to a range of market sectors throughout England, Scotland and Wales.

To find out more, get in contact

T 020 3151 5600

w tsa-uk.org